NATIONAL "12" CARRIES 18 PASSENGERS

THERE IS STILL SOME ROOM ON THE RUNNING BOARD

That a National Highway twelve cylinder car has carried more adult passengers than an automobile of any other make is the assertion of William C. Poertner, head of the Poertner Motor Car Company, since he gave a ride to eighteen passengers, all of whom were of legal age, if not of usual size. The fact that they were members of a troop of midgets, declares Mr. Poertner, does not affect his application for a carrying capacity record.

KLAUITTER LOSES TO VERNONITES

Los Angeles, May 18.—Dutch Klawitter had a bad time of it today in his first start of the year, and lost to the Tigers 7 to 2. He was hit moderately hard in the second inning. Three hits, one a double, netted the Tigers two runs. In the eighth he batted for fair. The score at this juncture was 2 all, but when the eighth finished it was 7 to 2.

Score by innings—
Ogden: 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—4
Hits: 101 210 213—11
Runs: 100 100 010—3
Vernon: 0 0 0 0 0 0 5—7
Hits: 130 101 223—10

ANGELS LOSE TO SEALS 4 TO 1

San Francisco, May 18.—"Spider" Baum showed the Angels some real pitching on the Oakland grounds today, and when the southerners started to boot the ball in atrocious fashion the champions won 4 to 1. Zabel pitched virtually as good a game as Baum until his one error gave the Seals their start.

The visitors' one run came in the ninth. Ellis grounded to Downs, who fumbled. Wolter drove a single to left and Koerner hit into a double. Galloway's blow to right scored Wolter.

Los Angeles: 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1
Hits: 6000 010 112—5
San Francisco: 0 0 0 0 0 0 4—4
Hits: 010 021 143—9

UTES STACK UP SCORE OF 11 TO 4

Salt Lake, May 19.—The score: Salt Lake 11, Portland 4.

The batteries: Salt Lake—Hal and Hannah. Portland—Sotheron, Lush and Fisher.

Probable batteries for today's game: Salt Lake—Hughes and Hannah. Portland—Noyes, Kelly and Fisher.

The game starts at 3 o'clock. Salt Lake won its first ball game of the Portland-Ute series when Bert Hall and Murphy led Blankenship's cohorts to a 11 to 4 victory over McCredie's justly famous Ducks. The game came closer to being a pitcher's battle than any of the series thus far and was remarkable for its minimum

TENNIS MATCHES IN SALT LAKE

Stanford University and Utah Men to Compete in Inter-collegiate Championships.

Salt Lake, May 19.—Stanford University and the University of Utah will meet in a series of tennis matches this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Salt Lake Tennis club courts in what promises to be the best intercollegiate contest played in Salt Lake in a long time. It will be the first match which the coast team will play on its long trip east to compete in the intercollegiate championships.

Herbert L. Hahn and H. V. D. Johns are the Stanford players. They will be opposed by Foraners Little, the "U" champion, and possibly Milton Frumkin in the singles. In the doubles Little and Frumkin, Fred Taylor, Archie Moyes, Charles Van Pelt or Dave Colman will represent Utah.

The Utah team has now rounded in to good condition, and Professor Mathews, tennis coach at the institution, feels that the university men will make a good showing against the famous California team, which is confident of defeating the best eastern players. The Crimson supporters would not be surprised if the "U" racquetists should win the tournament. The splendid form which Little has displayed of late against the Utah Aggies is just about equal to the task of turning the trick, according to local critics.

The Stanford men have won a wide reputation on the coast. In a tournament at San Francisco last fall Johns won out in a match against William Johnston, national champion. Then in turn Hahn defeated Johns. So it appears that each has a good record and is expected to live up to it. At Stanford university they have been playing all winter long in anticipation of this trip. The members of the team feel a distinction of being chosen for the invasion by defeating all others in an elimination tournament which continued through a month of hard campaigning.

Hahn is more than six feet tall, slim and active. His great reach enables him to cover a great deal of territory with less exertion than an ordinary player. This will be his last season as a college player, as he will graduate from Stanford this spring.

Johns is not quite so tall as Hahn, but has also the slender build that is so advantageous to a tennis player. He gained his experience in the courts of the San Francisco schools and in Golden Gate park, entering Stanford a year ago with a well-established reputation as a tennis man.

Following the contest today the university will play the B. Y. U. here Saturday on the university courts. Utah today leads in the Utah state intercollegiate tournament, and is expected to win the championship again this year. The university will send a team to Colorado to defend the intermountain championship which Utah won last year.

BASEBALL GAMES

The closing game of the 1916 series of the Northern division, state high school baseball league, is being played this afternoon by the Ogden and Davis county high school teams. The Ogden high school nine, however, has already won the championship of the division and will compete for the state championship next week, in Salt Lake City.

PRESERVING INDIAN SPEECH
We are already beginning to regret that no phonographic records could have been made of the voices of great singers of the last generation, while we shall be handing down our Carousos and Melbas to those who come long after us.

Not long ago the department of the interior in Washington awoke to the fact that there was something else to be preserved for the future, namely the speech and war songs of our native Indians.

The new generation of Carlisle-bred chiefs do not take the ancient rituals very seriously, and it is probable that after the oldest of the living warriors had died, the Indian war songs will be practically forgotten. It was this feeling which prompted the government to make the phonograph records of the voices of the greatest of the living chiefs for the files of the nation. For some time past, now, these warriors on their periodic visits to Washington have recorded on the phonograph their songs and their legends for the files of the nation—Popular Science Monthly.

Merchant—Did you post my letter as I told you, John?
John—Yes, sir, but I had it weighed first and as it was double weight I put another stamp on it.

Merchant—That's right. Only I hope you didn't put the extra stamp on so that it would obliterate the address!

John—Indeed I didn't, sir. I just stuck it on top of the other stamp so as to save room.

THEATERS

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Manager Joseph Goss of the Orpheum theatre had a stroke of good luck yesterday when he booked Marie Stoddard just before noon, to replace a Pantages vaudeville act that failed to reach the city with the others booked for the week's engagement. Miss Stoddard is a remarkably versatile comedienne, having a very pleasing stage appearance, a voice that ranges—in good quality—from baritone to high soprano, and personality. She fits these talents to an act termed "A Satire on Vaudeville," the quality of which is rarely seen away from the "big time" houses. Yesterday's audiences at the Orpheum recalled the comedienne a number of times, the recalls being well deserved.

The best curtain raiser of the year is seen this week in a whirlwind dancing act presented by Hirschoff's Russian Dancers. This troupe of three men and three women, in Gypsy costume and stage setting, set amazing pace in their terpsichorean offering and their solo and ensemble work was enthusiastically applauded. Widely different and equally enjoyed is "A Glimpse of Old Ireland," introducing Michael Emmet and Co., the company being a pretty Irish colleen with excellent mezzo-soprano voice. The two are billed as "real Irish talent" and their act is delightfully characteristic of the land of the Shamrock. It is admirably staged and the Irish songs score a big hit in solo and duet numbers.

The beat that can be said of the Packard "4" is that the quartet has talent and its act is a novelty. The girls appear in futuristic costumes and go through some futuristic movements that, to say the least, are not modest. The act, such as it is, however, is cleverly constructed.

The show closes in the same whirlwind fashion that it opens, with the Seven Bricks supplying the sensations. This troupe of acrobats and tumblers give a performance that has not been surpassed by an act of similar type in the history of vaudeville in Ogden.
